DJIA	49,451.98	-1.34%	2.89%	US stocks fell sharply in the session on February 12 as investors were concerned about the impact of AI on sectors that could be replaced such as finance, logistics, real estate or software. Fears of AI-caused disruption have even spread to the real estate sector, hurting stocks such as CBRE and SL Green Realty, with the assumption that higher unemployment will affect demand for office space.
